

James Lee - Chief Executive

The following information describes some of my duties:

As the chief executive officer of Links CVS, I provide leadership and am responsible for the organisation's administration, financial and operational management. Working closely with the board of charity trustees/ company directors, I develop the organisation's long-term strategy, budget and business plan and ensure it complies with the law and regulations. It is my responsibility to identify, raise and secure funding for the organisation's core work and project activities from various sources of funding including local authorities, other public sector agencies and compatible charitable trusts. I also attend public meetings and events and build relationships with relevant stakeholders in the public and voluntary sector on behalf of Links CVS.
